ARRIVAL INFORMATION

Accommodation

CETA possesses neither flats nor residences and it does not interfere nor compromises itself in the search of housing for its students.

Though CETA does not assume any responsibility, the school provides useful housing information to the students who request it.

In Barcelona, it's very frequent to rent a room in a shared flat. The price usually ranges from 350 to 400€ per person (it depends on whether the expenses are included or not). The flats are normally fully equipped.

We provide you with three different options to search for housing in Barcelona.

1. Look for lodging in student residences

There are several student residences in Barcelona where you can find a room or share one. According to the residence, it can have an individual bathroom and kitchen and the room can be private or shared. The prices depend on these criteria.

2. Use an online browser or real-estate agencies.

You will find many agencies online that offer housing services: they will help you find a room or will put you in touch with the owners.

3. You can also look for a room through web pages that have classified ads.

In these web pages you can find updated lists of apartments, shared flats or rooms.

Finally, if you plan to come to Barcelona and then find housing, we advise you to come approximately 2 weeks before the beginning of the course, in order to ensure you will be settled well before you start studying.

CETA is in the centre of Barcelona, in the district of "L'Eixample Esquerra", which is very well communicated by three different underground lines, as well as trains and buses. Any flat placed inside the metropolitan area of Barcelona will have an easy access to CETA.
